NOTES AND STUFF

- this pattern is written in u.s. terms.
- worked in continuous rounds, use a stitch marker to avoid crying.
- gauge doesn't matter, this isn't a cardigan (and even if it was, i bet you still wouldn't do a gauge swatch, because same). as usual with amigurumi you'll just need to keep your tension on the tighter side so the fluffy insides don't flop out.
- when using chunky chenille and a 5.5mm hook, the basic shroom measures around 18cm (7") & the birthday cake shroom measures around 22cm (8.5").
- be sure to only finish off the first leg, the 2nd leg continues on to attach the 1st and then forms the body. if you do finish off the 2nd leg, you'll probably cry a little, but you can always try again, it'll be ok.
- there's a cute lil' star to remind you that the bobble stitch explanation is on page 3.
- i have suggested sizing down your hook if you're making the birthday cake cap. this is for the candle, i found it was just a bit too chonky with the 5.5mm hook, but worked great with a 4mm.
- i love seeing people get creative with my patterns, if you don't like the candle topper, feel free to add anything you like! may i suggest a frog or floral arrangement?
- finally, please don't be a wang, this is my pattern and i worked hard on it, don't copy or redistribute it.
You can sell finished products made from this pattern, just add my name (@ belly_crochet_) in the listing, kthanks.

BOBBLE STITCH

this stitch will be used in round 13 for the lil' arms yarn over, insert hook into next stitch & pull up a loop.

yarn over & pull through the first two loops on the hook.

yarn over & pull through the next 2 loops on hook.

do this 5 times. there should be 6 loops on the hook.

yarn over & pull through all 6 loops.

the same stitch will be used in the mushroom cap & birthday cake cap, but this time you will only need to do 3 repeats of the "yarn over & pull through the next 2 loops on hook", so you'll end up with 4 loops on the hook.

I have named this "3bobble" in the pattern

BUTT iNSTRÜCTIONS

cut approx 30cm of a non-breaky yarn in your chosen mushroom body colour. insert needle between legs, (in the middle of the inc's you did on the back of the chain) your needle should exit in the center of the back, (between rnds 10 & 11).

repeat the same stitch once more, then pull tight (if you live dangerously and used chenille here, don't break your yarn, we don't want anyone crying). tie the 2 ends together at the butt-hole area.

hopefully you'll have some yarn left after tying off, use this yarn to sew together any little gaps that are left where you joined the legs.

DIY TIME!

we are gonna cut some circles to make sure the cake layers aren't puffy and weird.

first we need to measure the 2 cake layer circles. i'm not a mathematician, so i do this by cutting something that looks "about right" and then trimming for a while close enough to correct.

shove the little circle into the top of the cake, this will leave the top nice and flat, like you actually took the time to level your cake.

insert the large circle.
don't you even THINK of stuffing after the 2nd circle is added. if you try, i'll just make you take it all out again.

stuff the hole lightly

using cotton (or any non-breaky yarn) sew back and forth through the BLO of rnd10 until you have an inaccurate pentagram that will hold the cardboard in place

YAY, SEWING!

i'm very sorry, but we will, unfortunately, have to sew the cap/cake to the body. we will get through this together.

first, identify the BLO from rnd 10 of the basic mushroom cap or rnd 15 of the cake cap.

if you didn't do the bobble round, just work with the back loop of the last rnd you crocheted of the cap/cake.

see how i'm using stitch markers to keep the cap attached to the body? very demure, very thoughtful. she's not going to deal with the cap flopping all over the place while she stitches, no ma'am.

well, now all that's left to do is the obvious part, the actual sewing.

using cotton or another less-breaky yarn that colour matches pretty ok with your body colour:

sew through the visible back look of the cap that we identified earlier, and the back loop of the final rnd of the body.

if you followed instructions well, you should have 54 stitches on each piece that line up perfectly.

if not... i won't tell anyone, just sew it together so it doesn't end up in a WIP pile that haunts you for months.

YAY, EVEN MORE SEWING!

FACE DETAILS

white

sew from the top of the eye to the bottom, guiding the yarn to the side of the eye.

black

sew a little mouth shape. i went for the "just happy to be here" look, but you can give him different feelings if you prefer (this lil' mouth is 2 stitches wide).

cheek colour

sew below the eyes starting under the center of the eye & ending 2 stitches to the side of your Buttshroom..

any colour

i encourage you to embroider cute little things on butts. like a little tattoo for your BELLY.

hearts or flowers are always a cute place to start if you're stuck for ideas
